-HENNESSEY'S HOMETOWN NEWSPAPER-

SAYING GOODBYE TO PJ

Next week's Sunday service (June 18th) will be the last time PJ (Pamela Jean) Stewart, the pastor of the Hennessey First United Methodist Church, will lead the Hennessey congregation. PJ said, "I am now 72 years old and our denomination requires me to retire from being a full-time pastor." Another factor is the Methodist Church has been known to keep pastors in place approximately 5 or 6 years and assigns them based on need. PJ said, "I arrived in 2016 so I have been here 6 years." PJ is moving to Newkirk for a new assignment she described as a $\frac{3}{4}$ position. PJ said, "I'm not full-time, not fully retired. I just can't remain a full-time pastor."

PJ grew up in El Dorado, Arkansas in the southern part of the state. Her family moved to Springdale when she was in 11th grade. After school, PJ and her husband made Tulsa their home for many years. This is where most of her family lives to date. PJ was a music teacher before entering the ministry. She said, "Serving in the ministry was my second career." In her first church PJ served as Associate Pastor pastor at Christ United Methodist Church in Tulsa, with Sr. Pastor, Dr. Bob Pierson, who served as a student Pastor in Hennessey while going to seminary!

Hennessey was the 5th church PJ has pastored in the 30+ years of being a pastor and for more years on staff as Christian Education Director, Youth Director, children youth, and choir director.

PJ has been very active in the Hennessey community while here. She served on the Friends of the Library board, is active in the Ministerial Alliance, and has been active with the Salvation Army in Kingfisher.

She is also an avid NASCAR fan and has traveled to many tracks around the country to see races. She is also a Mickey Mouse fan, and they made it the theme of her departing party last Sunday after Church.

The new pastor, Sandy Shepherd, and her husband Mark arrive on June 25th. The Shepherds are coming from Prague and Arlington where she has been serving both churches.

PJ said that she will always consider Hennessey her home and hopes to come to visit again in the future!

ALL ABOUT HENNESSEY PRESENTS AT OPA

For approximately 117 years, the Oklahoma Press Association (OPA) has been the organization that almost all Oklahoma newspapers looked to for support in their trade. The OPA is also the oldest trade association in Oklahoma. Now, in some cases being the oldest is a good thing, but newspapers nationwide have struggled to survive for the past few years. Associations like OPA were kind of stuck in the old way of doing things.

For several years, All About Hennessey inquired about becoming a member of the OPA and was told that we did not qualify because we didn't fit their guidelines. We were "an internet thing, not an actual newspaper." About a year ago, OPA Executive Vice President Mark Thomas came by the office and asked if we would be interested in joining the association. Our first response was, what has changed for us to become a member? Thomas replied that as an association, we must decide, "Do we want a bright future or just a proud past?" Mark told us that their board recently changed their bylaws to allow new types of news organizations like All About Hennessey to become members.

In January, All About Hennessey joined the OPA and was invited to be a presenter at the OPA convention held last week, June 9th, at the Grand Casino in Shawnee. Jack Quirk, founder of The All About Network and All About Hennessey, was part of a panel that talked about producing alternative income. Quirk spoke about how AAH documented the building of the Hennessey Eagle Event Center, Created the Hennessey QR code program, and used video to tell stories.

NOT SURE IT'S AN HONOR

Part of the convention includes being included in the blooper ceremony. Although it was cool to be considered for an award in the first year as a member, it taught us to proofread a little better. Our blooper was for the story we did about the world's biggest cowboy hat. We stated in the article that the big hat was submitted to the "Genius World Book of Records" We didn't win the grand prize, which went to the Norman Transcript for their headline that read, "Pecan growers should take care of their nuts year-round."

COUNTY FARM BUREAUS PARTNER WITH OKFB TO DONATE NEARLY $20,000 TO FOOD ASSISTANCE PROGRAMS

County Farm Bureaus partner with OKFB to donate nearly $20,000 to food assistance programs. Forty-six county Farm Bureaus and four county Women's Leadership Committees across the state along with Oklahoma Farm Bureau donated nearly $20,000 to food banks, food pantries, meal assistance programs and after school programs in Oklahoma.

The OKFB Community Food Assistance Matching Program, which is in its third year, connects county Farm Bureaus with their communities through donations to local food assistance programs, and OKFB matches up to $100 for each county donation – doubling the impact of the gift.

County Farm Bureaus that donated to local food banks include Adair, Alfalfa, Atoka, Beaver, Bryan, Caddo, Canadian, Coal, Comanche, Cotton, Craig, Creek, Ellis, Garfield, Grady, Greer, Jackson, Johnston, Kingfisher, Latimer, Leflore, Lincoln, Logan, Marshall, Mayes, McIntosh, Murray, Muskogee, Noble, Nowata, Okfuskee, Oklahoma, Okmulgee, Ottawa, Pawnee, Payne, Pottawatomie, Pushmataha, Rogers, Seminole, Stephens, Texas, Tillman, Washington, Washita and Woodward.

Comanche County WLC, Creek County WLC, Garfield County WLC and Noble County WLC also participated in the matching program.

The program serves as an opportunity for farmers and ranchers to help members of their local communities through the very products our state's agriculturalists grow and raise each and every day.

A Hennessey Legend: Judge Robert C. Lovell

By Sara Jane Richter

I experienced a true pleasure late in May 2023; I spent the afternoon with Judge Robert "Bob" C. Lovell, a Hennessey legend. A gentleman in every way, Judge Lovell welcomed me into his home, offered me a comfy seat, and commenced an engaging conversation. I have known the Judge for many years, so there was no "break-in" time required to get our conversation rolling. His booming, room-filling voice and easy laugh made him a wonderful interview subject.

He has accomplished much during his life, traveled extensively, served his country, participated in his church life, mentored his family, contributed to Kingfisher County, and made Hennessey a better place. Born in Waukomis nearly 100 years ago, he remains active with friends, shooting sports, church, concerts, dining, and visiting. A born storyteller, he wishes to be known as a man who can spin a good tale. An affable, gregarious, generous, kind man, Mr. Lovell has never met a stranger.

By 1937, he and his family lived in Hennessey where he secured his first job: burying dead stray dogs and cats in town, a position that did not thrill his mother. At age 18, he joined the US Army right after the Normandy Invasion and trained to be a communication specialist and machine gunner with the 9th Armored Division. During his time in the military, he saw combat as he did at the battle of the Fall of the Bridge at Remagen. His wartime experiences formed the foundation of his autobiography published in 2010: Unlikely Warrior: A Small Town Boy's View of World War II. That military experience has allowed him two recent honors: helping to open the 2023 Junior College World Series in Enid and being inducted into the Oklahoma Military Hall of Honor in May 2023.

Upon his discharge at the end of the war, he returned home and decided to attend college. His father encouraged him to go into law as working with one's mind is easier than working with one's hands. Lovell enrolled at the University of Tulsa and graduated with his degree in 1951, promptly enrolled in the TU School of Law, and received his law degree in 1953. Claiming that he had no money or connections upon graduation, Lovell felt the urgency to secure a position to support his wife Delores and first son Rusty. He learned that a Kingfisher bank, the Farmers and Merchants Bank, needed a full-time legal consultant; his career last 20 years there. Initially, his first position turned out to be perfect as the bank was near his parents' home and the location of his bank account. The Judge was on his way in the legal field.

When he moved to Hennessey to practice law, he became very active in the community. Through the years, he served as the town attorney, a member of the Planning Commission, vice-president of the Zoning Commission, head of the auxiliary police force, and Civil Defense Director. In addition, he held most every position in the Hennessey

United Methodist Church except president of the United Methodist Women and pastor.

Serving Hennessey in these capacities set the stage for him to serve Kingfisher County. After being an attorney for five years, he decided to run for public office and was elected to four terms—sixteen years—as Kingfisher County Judge. Unsure and unclear about the real duties of a county judge initially, he learned quickly, and each case taught him something that he would never forget.

Lovell possesses an innate ability to read people well and see them for what they really are. He has a remarkable ability to recall details, people, dates, and places with ease. He stressed being fair to each person who walked in front of his bench, and his reputation for honesty and common sense made people respect him all the more. Before the notion became a nation-wide initiative, Judge Lovell had the vision to establish a community service program for those convicted of crimes in his courtroom. Now, that sort of program is commonplace and allows certain guilty lawbreakers the good fortune to "work off" some of their sentences by performing community service.

He takes great pride in being a judge and "doing something worthwhile." One downside to the position was his being on call 24/7. Being a judge did come with a couple of fears, just like being in the banking business. First, there was always the fear of being robbed and/or taken hostage by robbers. Secondly, he was concerned about convicted felons seeking retribution on him and his family for their sentences. He never strayed too far from a weapon when he served as judge.

Judge Lovell claims that he has been "blessed each time that he turned around." He and his three sons—Rusty, Bill, and John—maintain close ties. Mrs. Lovell, a long-time elementary school teacher and graduate of Phillips University, died from cancer in 2020. Lovell enjoys shooting sports and travels to eastern New Mexico to the NRA Whittington Center twice a year to enjoy the camaraderie of friends and shoot long-range targets, off-hand, with his military weapon of choice, the .308 M1.

A world traveler, he has been to all 50 US states, Australia, Germany, Japan, and all of the Canadian provinces. He has two granddaughters, one great-granddaughter, and two great-grandsons. A true American legend by dint of his military service and legal career, Robert Lovell deserves the pride and respect of Kingfisher County and Hennessey as his life has been one of sacrifice and dedication to his fellow citizens. I'm proud to know him.

WHEAT & RYE HARVEST FACES CHALLENGES

Crops are just about ready to harvest but excessive rainfall this spring has delayed the wheat harvest, with farmers unable to harvest the ready crops due to the wet conditions. As a result, CHS in Hennessey has yet to receive any wheat, and with more rain predicted, it is uncertain when they will. Additionally, some rye fields southeast of Hennessey were recently damaged by hail and wind, adding to the challenges faced by farmers in the area.

Hennessey Baseball Players Play in All Star Game

On May 24th, three Hennessey High School students got the opportunity to play in the Northwest Oklahoma Baseball Coaches Association All Star Game. Sebastian Gonzalez, Seth Simunek, and Langston Smith played in the Large School All Star game, which consists of 3A-6A schools. Seniors that receive Northwest Oklahoma Baseball Coaches Association All Star selection are chosen out of all seniors in Northwest Oklahoma. Coaches in the area select the students that best represent their school. All three also received Class 3A All Star Honors, which put them in the running to become All Staters. Coach Fuksa said, "None of our boys became All Starters but definitely came close and represented our school and community very well!"

In addition to this, 6 players from Hennessey made the Great Plains All Conference Baseball team. Sebastian Gonzalez (pitcher of the year), Langston Smith (first base), Westyn Hopkins (infielder), Seth Simunek (outfielder), and honorable mentions to Jerrett Smith and Kevin Trillo.

MIDDLE SCHOOL GIRLS ATTEND BASKETBALL CAMP

Around 25 girls in grades 5th-8th took part in a summer basketball camp this week, receiving valuable training and practice opportunities. Led by Coach Richardson, the group focused on mastering the fundamentals of basketball, providing the girls with essential skills to improve their game. The camp provided an excellent opportunity for the students to enhance their basketball abilities during the summer months.

Sharon Kay Mauck

Sharon Kay Mauck was born in Fittstown, OK to Harding and Doris Rose on February 23, 1940, and entered her heavenly home on June 10, 2023, at the age of 83. She graduated from Blackwell High School in 1958 and completed a nursing degree at the Enid General Hospital in 1961. Sharon married Darrel Mauck on February 16, 1962, and raised two children.

Sharon was a registered nurse, then focused on raising her children. After her children were school-aged, she was employed by Pioneer Telephone Company in Hennessey and served her community for 27 years, retiring in 2005.

Sharon was devoted to her family and was passionate about serving others. She was gifted with many talents and enjoyed sharing them in service to her Lord and Savior. She was a gifted musician and seamstress. Sharon participated in a sewing group at her church that would make quilts to be gifted to the boys residing at the Boys Ranch Town in Edmond, OK, so that each young man would have a special quilt of their own. She also was generous in sharing her handmade quilts with many members of her family and special friends. Sharon taught Sunday School and had a special love for the members of her classes and thought of them as extended members of her family. Because of her love for young people, she enjoyed baking cookies for youth group activities and summer camps. Sharon was an avid sports fan and enjoyed watching her children and grandchildren in their competitions, OU Sooners football and Thunder basketball games.

She was preceded in death by her parents, and two brothers in law, Larry Mauck and Terry Davis. Surviving her are her husband, Darrel, of the home and two children; Darla Choate and husband Jack III of Hennessey, and David Mauck and wife Sheri of Edmond; and a sister Judy Davis of Claremore; and two brothers Derron Rose of Vinita, and Frank Barbee of Bartlesville and sister-in-law Valenda Mauck of Ames. She is also survived by three granddaughters; Kacy Hays and husband Brandon, Ashley Meek and husband Kevin, and Megan Mauck; and four great-grandchildren, Kalle and Zoey Hays and Keaston and Ana Meek; and several special nieces and nephews.

A celebration of life is scheduled for Saturday, June 17, 2023, at 10:30 am at the First Baptist Church of Hennessey. Cremation arrangements are by Cordry-Gritz Funeral Home.

Honorary pallbearers are Darrel Unruh, Mickey Blakey, Robert (Bob) Stewart, Tyler Streck, Brandon Hays, and Kevin Meek.

In lieu of flowers donations may be made in her honor to Oklahoma Baptist Homes for Children with the funeral home serving as custodian of the fund.

The All About HENNESSEY POST
BIGGEST CAR SHOW YET!

The Sunday, April 23rd Hennessey 2023 Cruisin' Oklahoma Car Show was the biggest yet. Everything worked this year, the weather, the cars, the volunteers, and after a little traffic jam at the beginning by the estimated 1000 cars and over 3000 people the event was a hit. Every business that was open was packed with customers, the restaurants were full and Hennessey's sidewalks were full of people.

The cars were the main attraction but the events also drew large crowds. These included helicopter rides, drifting, ATV races, a burn-out contest, a petting zoo a children's area, and a pop-up shop. This couldn't be possible without the total support of our community, our police department, and especially the coordinator Tony Blackburn. Tony jumped through some very big hoops to make this event possible.

The Forgotten Ministries volunteers brought an entire crew from End to help with the set-up and tear-down of the event. More photos and videos coming soon. Photos by Jack Quirk, Libby Seiger, and Jude Nhriser.
