SOUTH MITCHELL RD. DRAINAGE PROJECT NEARS COMPLETION AFTER SETBACK

The South Mitchell Rd. ditch/drainage project has been underway for several months, but encountered a setback due to funding and a previous repair that did not align correctly. The issue began when the ditch was covered up at the 300 block of S. Mitchell Rd. several years ago. This solution worked until the new drainage project began and the elevations did not match the engineering firm's plan. Unfortunately, the engineer left out the covered part when mapping out the new drainage between 6th and Oklahoma St. along Mitchell, causing the new work to not drain properly.

The original project was funded by a grant, but more money had to be allocated by the Hennessey Board of Trustees to fix the missing part. This involved repairing the grade and installing new culverts in front of several homes where the ditch was covered to ensure the entire project would drain properly. The construction company is expected to complete the work in this area this week and wrap up the entire project shortly.

SMALL OIL LEAK ON LYON CREEK

Joshua and Alicia Seiger of Hennessey were out enjoying a ride on their Razor 4-wheeler Sunday evening, August 6th when they crossed the bridge over Lyon Creek.

Joshua explained, "We were on N2940 Rd. north of E600 Rd. (7 East, 2.5 North of Hennessey) when we crossed the bridge, the petroleum smell was strong so we stopped and looked in the creek." The Seigers saw an oil sheen on the water and called 911. Kingfisher County Emergency Manager Steve Loftis was dispatched to the scene as the sun was setting. Loftis surveyed the area with a flashlight but it was too dark to see the source.

Monday morning Loftis returned along with the Oklahoma Corporation Commission and concluded that there was a pipeline in the area leaking small amounts of oil into the creek. It was determined that a Mustang Fuels pipeline had a small leak on the south side of the creek. Mustang personnel deployed absorbent booms across the creek to catch any fluids from the leak. Silver Services out of Enid, spent Monday afternoon locating, excavating, and making repairs to the pipeline. DEQ and other officials were on the scene during the repairs.

Back to School Breakfast

When the kids are headed back to school and you have all the unrealistic expectations to be that mom; here's a super easy casserole that you prepare the night before and wake up in time to throw in the oven for a delicious and filling breakfast. For all you food blog haters, we are going to post the recipes first and then talk later! Easily-found recipes right off the bat, and you can scroll on down for talking.

The original recipe

MOM'S BREAKFAST CASSEROLE

1 1/2 lb sausage, browned
stale hot dog buns to fill a 9x13 pan (or hamburger buns, any thick bread-better to soak up the egg mixture) allow to sit out and dry up good.
2 c Swiss cheese, grated
2 c cheddar cheese, grated
6 eggs
1 tsp salt
1 tsp black pepper
1 tsp Worcestershire sauce
1 c half and half
1 c milk

Spray 9x13 pan with non-stick spray. Line bottom of pan with bread. Sprinkle browned and drained sausage on top And then half of the cheeses. Mix up the rest of the ingredients and pour over the top (mixing the whole time you are pouring to keep the salt and pepper from settling). Cover and refrigerate overnight. In the morning, bake covered at 350* for approximately 45 minutes, or until eggs are set in the middle.

Autumn's specialty is to find shortcut recipes. It comes naturally for her..she just comes up with the most simple, tasty meal ideas! Not saying she's lazy buttttt...if a recipe is more than 5 steps, she's out! haha! We were talking about breakfast casseroles and she decided to make a Crockpot breakfast casserole if Crockpot recipes are more your jam... If your Crockpot makes you happy then we are here for you!

CROCKPOT BREAKFAST CASSEROLE aka Load of Crock Breakfast Casserole

1 bag (32oz) hash browns (used Southern Style, recommend using shredded)
2 lbs sausage (uncooked)
8 cups cheese
10 eggs, whisked
2 cups milk
seasoning salt (probably a Tbsp)
salt and pepper, to taste

Layer in your Crockpot: half a bag of hash browns, half the sausage, and half the cheese. Repeat with the second half in this order.

Whisk the eggs and milk together, add the seasoning and mix well. Pour the egg mixture over the layers in the Crockpot (best practice is to keep whisking the seasoning while you pour). Cook on low overnight or at least 8 hours.

this is after leaving the lid off for about an hour. I think maybe cooking your sausage before adding would decrease your grease content. But, let it be known that you CAN cook the sausage in the Crockpot..you'll just also need to soak up some grease see, here's what I mean about the grease I soaked up what I could with paper towels. Probably will cook the sausage first and drain it then add it to the Crockpot next time. Things I'll probably do differently next time: •shredded hash browns instead of southern style •use the whole dozen eggs (maybe) •cook the sausage before (or substitute ham cubes so it's still a no prep recipe) •possibly use less cheese except, I love cheese soo I'm not super settled on this one... I also think cheese gets greasy when it cooks too long so the meat change up could fix the grease "problem" without depriving the lactose lovers any cheesy goodness

So, whether you're a traditionalist following the OG oven-baked recipe or are starting your own traditions by busting out the Crockpot~ We hope you enjoy many mornings with your loved ones~ feeding more than just your belly Mom's breakfast casserole is known in our family as "semi-world famous", haha. We have it on special occasions such as Christmas morning, but there is absolutely no reason why you can't make it any day of the week or for no special occasion at all! It is extremely versatile too. Our mama has a method to her madness and has this recipe down to an art...even the layering of the cheeses. But, I have made this using leftover Golden Chick rolls (insert angels singing here!), with whatever cheeses I had on hand and with all milk instead of the more delicious half and half (or even heavy cream-hello!) and the result was just as good! The Golden Chick rolls actually lent a little sweetness to the casserole that isn't usually there, so there's that if you like sweetness. The moral of this story is, make our mama's breakfast casserole. It is a no fail, delicious breakfast that never disappoints! Improvise! Use what you have on hand and make it yours.

Autumn's mother-in-law, Brenda, says that she likes to make individual breakfast casseroles in muffin tins. This makes it easy to package and freeze individually and if you have older kids..they can even thaw out their own breakfast if need be. We will be trying this out for sure!

Check back, we may have to have a follow up post with more breakfast ideas.

Let us know if you made these and what you did differently. We love to hear from you! Blessings! Summer & Autumn

SCAMS ARE ALL AROUND US, EVEN HENNESSEY

A local Hennessey man had his Facebook page hacked this week and the hacker posted several items for sale including a car. When an interested buyer called about the car the scammer said, "I have had a lot of interest and would need a deposit to hold it." The interested party asked where the seller lived and he gave an address in Hennessey. The interested buyer knew that this person did not live there and cut off the conversation right away. This could have ended badly if the right actions were not taken.

Internet, email, and lately even text scams are all around us. Unless you can verify the person is real do not reply or give them any personal information.

We want you to know about these scams so you can protect yourself and your personal information. Here are a few tips to help you avoid email scams: Be suspicious of any email that asks for any of your personal information, any credit card number, or any password or account information. Look for spelling or grammar errors - email scams are often poorly written. Review the actual email address from the sender - scam emails often come from unusual addresses.

This offer is not valid with any other Generac generator promotion. Generac reserves the right to amend and/or change this offer at any time without notice.

IN SEARCH OF SOMEONE IN NEED

Numerous families in our area are facing difficulties this summer due to the scorching heat and the approaching cold weather. A malfunctioning central heating and air conditioning system only adds to their troubles.

S&J Heating and Air is offering to donate a fully installed brand new central heating and air system to someone who is in need of it. They aim to provide assistance and support to those who require it. S&J has partnered with the Hennessey Community Action Team (CAT), Hennessey Dover Ministerial Alliance, and the Kingfisher Ministerial Alliance. To search for a family in need of a new, fully installed central Heat & Air system for their home at no charge.

This incredibly generous gift will be awarded to the family with the greatest need, selected from the list of applicants. The qualifications are as follows.

The family must own the home, it cannot be a rental. The home must already be set up for a central heat and air unit, meaning they can't go in and do any construction work. This will most likely be a home that has a nonworking unit already.

This family must be in need financially, and meet some basic low-income standards. This will be based on need, such as someone with health issues or children with conditions.

This will include anyone in the Dover-Hennessey-Kingfisher areas of Kingfisher County. If you fit these simple guidelines or know of a family or individual that could use this gift please write out what you or someone you know needs and bring it by the S&J offices in Hennessey or Kingfisher.

MULTI-DEPARTMENT FIRE NEAR LACEY

At about 6:30 pm on Thursday evening (August 3rd) Hennessey firefighters were dispatched to a grass fire near the intersection of 2750 and 610 rd., 1 mile west and 1 north of Lacey. Hennessey requested mutual aid from Ames, Dover, and Loyal which sent brush trucks and tankers. A bailer operated by Rick Ramstack caught fire near the south end of the field and the south wind quickly pushed the fire toward a home and several structures. Firefighters cleared the scene at about 8:30 pm and returned to their stations. The fire rekindled Friday morning and Hennessey, Dover, and Loyal departments were dispatched at 6:30 am to put out hot spots.

The All About Hennessey POST

-HENNESSEY'S HOMETOWN NEWSPAPER-

EARLY MORNING FIRE

Hennessey Firefighters were called out to a tank battery fire at about 2:30 am on Sunday, August 6th after a thunderstorm rolled through the area. Lightning struck the tank battery located approximately two miles west of Hennessey on E630 Rd. (W 7th St.) Hennessey was assisted by Dover Fire Department who brought their tanker truck. The crews cleared the scene at about 5:30 am that morning.
