MINEFIELD REPAIRS

The Kingfisher County District 2 crews were out in full force last week, making much-needed repairs to the infamous Mitchell and Conoco Roads. Because of the many potholes, regular users commonly referred to these two roads as the "Minefield." The repairs included strategically targeting the worst areas of the roads with asphalt patches.

REIDLINGER WILL NOT CONTEST ELECTION

Jonathan Riedlinger, who initially planned for a recount in the election for Kingfisher County sheriff, has now changed his decision. Despite losing the election by 27 votes to Aaron Pitts, Riedlinger stated that after discussing with Election Board Secretary Shawna Butts, his concerns about potential incidents at polling locations were addressed. Ultimately, he decided that a recount was not necessary, as he felt assured about the integrity of the election process.

OLD MAKES WAY FOR NEW

Last Saturday, August 31st, was a good but sad day. The long-standing south "Welcome to Hennessey" sign was taken down, and the area around the new welcome sign was cleaned up. This south entrance sign on Highway 81 has welcomed visitors to our community for many years. It was adopted, maintained, and repainted by several groups, including the Hennessey Masons and Lions Clubs.

Jack Quirk, director of Discover Hennessey, stated that was always the plan to save the sign, but it was simply too far gone. The wood was rotted, and the pipes rusted. The offer for someone to keep the sign was made available, but there were no takers.

When the decision was made to remove the sign, the process was not as straightforward as hoped. Several estimates were given, but they were too expensive. This past week, from August 25th through August 31st, David Dollar volunteered to remove the sign and clean up the area. With permission from Greg Fuksa, the land Lessor, the work began. Saturday afternoon, Randy Copeland and David Wanzer with Dollar Trucking made quick work of the demo with their track hoe. The metal from the sign will go to David Dollar's new recycling yard called Sooner Solids Solutions, located at the old sand pit at 16491 E. 650 Rd, Hennessey. Photo by AAH Jack Quirk

by AAH Shelley Muzny

Justin Rogers was raised west of Hennessey on a farm by Don and Jolene Rogers. Justin was the youngest of three children (Dulcie and Joel). Justin grew up showing pigs and loved being in 4-H and FFA. He graduated from Hennessey High School in 1993. After graduation, Justin went to NEO A&M College and received his associate's in Agriculture in 1995. He continued his education at Oklahoma State University with a Bachelor's degree in Agricultural Education in 1997. Justin earned his Master's in Agricultural Science in 2019 at Texas A&M University- Kingsville.

Justin's love for agriculture and teaching led him to a 20-year career in education as an Ag teacher, County Extension Agent, and Collegiate Livestock Judging Coach. Justin enjoyed working with youth in Livestock Judging Teams over the years especially on the 4-H and FFA levels. Justin was also a loan officer for Farm Credit and the Sales Executive for Premium Natural Beef. He is currently starting his 6th year as an Insurance Agent for Texas Farm Bureau Insurance specializing in Life Insurance and a Farm and Ranch risk management specialist.

Justin is married to Shawna. She is an educator in the Sonora Texas School District, a community in the Concho Valley Region of Texas. Justin and Shawna have two daughters, Phoebe Taylor and Jocelyn Rogers. Phoebe recently married this summer. She and her husband Ty live in Copan, OK. Phoebe takes after her dad and has excelled in livestock judging and coaching. Their youngest Jocelyn is 9 and in 4th grade. She is embarking on her 4-H career and is involved in public speaking. She loves to sing, and show livestock.

The Roger's family is highly involved with The First Baptist Church in Sonora and Justin was recently nominated by the church to become a Deacon. Justin's family, along with his wife's family, ranch in the Sonora area with commercial goats, club goats, and Dorper Sheep. They are also involved with their cow herd and assist Justin's dad with his operations in Oklahoma. In looking back, Justin stated he has been fortunate to take livestock judging teams from Oklahoma and Texas to all three of the National contests at Denver, Kansas City, and Louisville. Justin has been blessed to coach 33 students who have gone on to judge collegiality and have earned over one million dollars in college scholarships. Justin's judging alumni live all over the world and are in every profession imaginable. They all carry the same title as hard-working, productive professional members of our society. In Justin's spare time, he does like to judge livestock shows across the country, and hunt Axis Deer on the ranch. Photos by Justin Rogers.

HENNESSEY HS SOFTBALL VS DALE

The Hennessey High School Softball team came out hoping to rally a win, but it was not in their cards. The Lady Eagles played Dale in two games this Tuesday, August 27th and lost both games. The Lady Eagles had a hard time getting their bats going tonight. Despite the loss, the Hennessey High School Softball team continued their team spirit and are determined to continue to learn and improve. Story and Pictures by AAH, Shelley Muzny

THE EAGLES OPEN THE SEASON AGAINST THE WILDCATS

The Hennessey Eagles needed a bounce back in a big way after last years disappointing 1-9 season. They opened the 24' campaign at home against the Cashion Wildcats.

The boys got out to just about the best start you can, as an interception by senior LB Kevin Trillo gave the Eagles the football, and newcomer freshman Hagan Copeland, ran a 40-yard touchdown to the house. In the next possession, the Eagles marched down the field, and Braedyn Richardson punched in a 2-yard touchdown. This momentum once again continued, with a drive led by some spectacular catches by Hunter Weber led to a Holder/Weber team up in the endzone. Jessin Hardin would tack on some 2-point conversions, and the Birds would quickly pounce 23-0.

There would be no more scoring in the 1st half for the Eagles, and the halftime score would be 23-7 after a touchdown drive for the Cats. Cashion implemented a run-heavy second half that would be quite successful, as they tacked on eight more points and cut back the Eagle's lead by a possession. Luis Macias-Montoya, the JR kicker, sent it to an 11 point lead with his 30-yard field goal, but back-to-back touchdown drives by the Wildcats gave the Eagles no chance but to make a statement. Unfortunately, Montoya was given a 40+ yard field goal attempt that missed slightly right, and the Wildcats walked away with a 29-26 victory. The Eagles head to Chisholm next week.

Kathryn Merrill Art

Transitions
by Bonny Flesher

When I visit with my subjects I try to allow one hour and then leave. In my visit with Kathryn Merrill, I may have overstayed my hour limit. I saw her passion in each piece of art she created. She has an attention to detail and honors her subjects unique stories. Kathy said she has always drawn, growing up on a ranch in Montana, she had plenty of subjects. Kathy gave credit to a high school teacher after moving to California for nurturing her talent.

Kathy came to Kingfisher in 1989 with her grandmother. She had just graduated from high school bringing a beautician license with her. Kathy still works in her beauty shop but across the room is her latest art project. She has over 200 creations, some made with pencils, some with oil paints. We touched on the business side of selling art. Most artists want to make art and let someone else handle the selling. Kathy does it all from the creating to framing to selling. She can tell you the story behind each piece. When I asked Kathy what she wanted people to see in her work, she said "the Western culture that is full of stories with details of their lives." Kathy said God has packed each of our bags with unique gifts and plans to use them for his glory. We have to keep our eyes and hearts open to what God has in mind for our journey. We talked about those who have inspired her faith. Kathy shared with me about one of her favorite artists, her brother Larry Kastner.

Larry is incarcerated in Oklahoma serving a life sentence due to substance abuse. Kathy showed me some of his artwork that she also has for sale. She said the money from his work allows him to maintain a certain level of independence and pride in himself. Dealing with ADHD, art is a positive and healthy way for him to spend his time. Kathy is excited about an upcoming workshop in Pawhuska this October. She's planning her open house again this year. Go visit KathrynMerrillwesternart.com and check out the new adventures Kathy has planned. I want to thank Kathy for a glimpse into her journey. She was kind and inspiring in my journey in the art world.
