HOUSE USED FOR TRAINING

by Angela Bruner

After years of effort, the Hennessey Board of Education finally bought the last piece of property needed to finish the parking area west of the auditorium. The house at 519 E. Kansas (the NW corner of E. Kansas and N. Walnut) had been empty and stuck in probate for a long time. Nathen Greenfield, the executor of the estate, attended the January 13th board meeting and struck a deal during the executive session. They bought it for $55,000, and the estate had to remove any asbestos and all the sheetrock in the house.

The plan was to tear down the house and complete the parking area. The fire department saw this as a great chance for multi-agency training, including hose lay, vertical ventilation, ladder, fire behavior, and overhaul. Kyle Keeton, the training officer, came up with a great plan that was carried out by the Hennessey Fire Department (HFD), Hennessey Police Department (HPD), and Life EMS. This training was especially useful because it allowed the use of hydrants in town, which isn't always possible with farm structures. It also gave candidates valuable experience working on a burning structure alongside seasoned pros. Fire Chief Brandon Scott said, "Everyone worked really hard and I'm proud of all of them, especially after the last couple of days." photo by AAH Shelley Muzny

OKLAHOMA ENDURES CHAOTIC DAY OF WILDFIRES, HIGH WINDS, AND HAZARDOUS CONDITIONS

Extreme Weather and Fire Danger Grip Oklahoma

On Friday, March 14, 2025, Oklahoma residents faced a harrowing day of extreme weather, marked by high winds, wildfires, and hazardous visibility conditions affecting multiple counties.

7:00 AM – A Calm Start

Hennessey residents awoke to a warm, sunny morning. The low wind and clear skies gave no indication of the severe weather conditions that would soon unfold.

11:00 AM – Sudden Wind Surge and Dangerous Conditions

Within an hour, winds escalated from 10 to 50 mph. The first emergency call came in regarding a two-vehicle accident about one mile east of Hennessey. Blinding, blowing sand had reduced visibility on Highway 51 to zero, prompting the Oklahoma Department of Transportation (ODOT) to close the entire section between Highway 81 and Highway 74 for eight hours.

11:30 AM – Firefighters Mobilize

Many Hennessey volunteer firefighters set up at the station, operating as a full-time fire department for rapid response. Calls for assistance poured in throughout the day, though most fires were small and quickly extinguished. photo by AAH Ivan Cabral.

ART THERAPY

Next month will mark one year since I began my transition into retirement. My boss suggested I call the stories I write "Transitions." I didn't realize at the time that transitioning into retirement and writing about it would require me to truly live it.

Transitions by Bonny Flesher

As I started this new chapter, I discovered that time was my biggest adjustment—I suddenly had too much of it! Now, every Tuesday, you can find me at what I call Art Therapy. While some people turn to golf for therapy, I prefer paintbrushes and drawing pencils.

In this art room, I have met four unique ladies, all very talented in their chosen mediums. But it's not just about sharing our art; we've also shared life-changing events, cried a few tears, and exchanged plenty of laughs. We've played music while getting lost in our individual projects. Of course, sometimes you have to step away from what you're working on. One day, I rushed out to buy a sandwich, and it wasn't until I had eaten half of it that I realized I had forgotten to pay. I had to make a confession and go back to settle the bill!

The Art Therapy group is wonderful when it comes to critiquing each other's work. They help me see where I might add a shadow or make other adjustments. It's amazing how adding a small piece of grass or a flower can change not only the perspective of a painting but also our outlook on personal situations. I love the colors of paint and the smell of linseed oil.

I promised my art therapy ladies that I wouldn't mention their names in this story because they prefer to stay under the radar! However, I will mention Bernice. She arrived in a large box with instructions, and after piecing her together, she now stands tall and strong with beautiful stained wood. Her frame will support whatever canvas her owner dreams up. Since "Isle" didn't seem fitting, we named her Bernice. She is a pillar standing in the light, ready to capture the shadows and shapes of many creations to come!

I'm always chasing the desire to improve my drawings, but maybe it's okay to stand still sometimes, just like Bernice!

HENNESSEY TOWN POOL SET FOR MAINTENANCE & REPAINTING IN FALL 2025

The Hennessey Town Pool is scheduled for repainting and maintenance following the 2025 summer season. Town officials approved the project on March 13th at the Board of Trustees meeting. They chose Carruthers Pools of Kansas to do the work for $56,822. The pool, which has served the community for five years, requires resurfacing to address minor cracks and fading paint. This is just part of regularly scheduled maintenance.

To avoid disrupting the upcoming swim season, the repainting will take place in the fall of 2025. In addition to resurfacing, the town is considering repainting the water slide and installing a sunshade over the pump area to protect equipment from excessive heat exposure.

Town officials stressed that regular maintenance is key for a safe and fun swimming experience for everyone. More updates on scheduling and additional improvements will be provided as the project moves forward. photo by AAH Jack Quirk.

Where are they now? Erin (Fuksa) Miller

by AAH Shelley Muzny

Erin (Fuksa) Miller was born and raised in Hennessey, Oklahoma, by her parents, Daniel and Jeanette Fuksa (both deceased). She has one brother, Jeremy Fuksa. Erin was a member of the Hennessey High School cheerleading team and graduated from Hennessey High School in 1998.

After graduation, Erin attended Oklahoma State University (OSU) from 1998 to 2000 before transferring to Northwestern Oklahoma State University (NWSU), where she studied from 2000 to 2003 and earned a Bachelor of Nursing degree. While in nursing school, she worked at St. Mary's Regional Hospital in Enid and continued there as a surgical nurse from 2003 to 2005.

In 2005, Erin moved with her husband to Mississippi, where she worked for the Mississippi Organ Recovery Agency from 2005 to 2007 as an organ recovery coordinator. In this role, she obtained consent for organ donation from families, managed donors medically in the ICU to keep them stable for recovery, and ensured that all organs were sent to their respective transplant destinations.

From 2007 to 2020, Erin served as a surgical nurse at Oktibbeha County Hospital in Starkville. During the COVID-19 pandemic, she was reassigned from the surgery department to the COVID floor due to the suspension of surgical procedures.

Since 2020, Erin has worked as the Director of Nursing at Starkville Pediatric Extended Care, a facility for medically fragile children. They care for children with various disabilities, including tracheostomies, seizure disorders, and feeding tubes. Erin states, "This job is truly the most fulfilling job I've ever had."

Erin married Randal Miller on July 8, 2000, at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Hennessey. They will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary this July. The couple moved to Starkville, Mississippi, in 2004, where they still reside. They have two children, Emmi (15) and Hutch (12).

Randal and Erin actively support their children in sporting events at Starkville Academy and travel with Emmi's travel softball team, the Mississippi Swarm. They also enjoy camping, boating on the river, and visiting the beach. Erin has always had the kindest, most beautiful heart and smile!

2:00 PM – Damage Reports and Road Closures

By early afternoon, reports of structural damage, downed power lines, and road closures due to low visibility increased. A grass fire near Okarche reached a residential area but was swiftly contained by the Okarche Fire Department. High winds caused three semi-trucks to be blown off the road near the south overpass on Highway 81 in Okarche.

3:00 PM – Widespread Wildfires

Hennessey avoided major fires, but neighboring counties were less fortunate. Payne County experienced significant wildfire damage, with over 50 homes and businesses destroyed. Hennessey firefighters Cris Pribyl, Kyle Keeton, and Skylar McCall traveled to assist in Logan County near Langston.

7:00 PM – Smoke Engulfs the Region

By evening, dozens of major wildfires raged across the state, filling the air over Kingfisher County with heavy smoke. The Kingfisher County 911 center was inundated with reports of smoke. Emergency officials confirmed that fires in Dewey and Custer counties were producing vast amounts of wind-driven smoke that spread into the Kingfisher County region.

9:00 PM – Winds Subside, Roads Reopen

As night fell, wind speeds decreased, allowing for the reopening of closed roads. However, lingering dust in the air cast an eerie glow over the area, marking the end of a chaotic and challenging day for Oklahoma residents and emergency responders. Photo by AAH Jack Quirk.

CEMETERY EXPANSION PROJECT UNDERWAY

During the March 13, Town Trustees Meeting, the Board approved a cemetery expansion project to accommodate future burial needs as the current space nears capacity. The Board awarded an $8,200 contract to Gladiator Construction to begin leveling and grading the newly acquired land.

In December 2019, Scott Hajek and the Town reached an agreement. Scott traded the five acres of land he owned, which adjoins the north side of Hennessey Cemetery, for the mineral rights beneath the ten acres of existing cemetery land owned by the Town. This was an even trade, and no money was exchanged.

The project will include drainage improvements, grass planting, and plot mapping to ensure the space is well-organized and maintained. Additionally, town officials are researching drought-resistant grass options to keep maintenance costs low while preserving a respectful environment. Future steps include surveying for burial plots and planning road access within the expansion. Photo by AAH Jack Quirk

AUTUMN & SUMMER

FOLLOW THEM ON FACEBOOK, INSTAGRAM AND MSHA·KE/OKSEASONEDSISTERS

The days are getting longer. Temps are getting warmer. Soon things will be in bloom. You know what that means? Seasonal allergies! Kidding! Well... not kidding - that's just not what this article is about. Haha. We're gonna talk about Spring Cleaning with the hope of helping to simplify it for you so you can enjoy the beauty of this season! Autumn came up with this cleaning schedule after she became a mother and realized she needed clear goals for each day to ensure she got more done than just diaper changes, feedings and repeatedly cleaning up the same messes.

Monday – Make it Fresh:

- Reset from the weekend/do any prep you can to make your week easier
- ~Wash bedding, extra blankets, pillow covers, etc

Tuesdays – R 4 Toilets:

- Clean bathrooms
- ~Wash towels and bath mats

Wednesday – Thorough Thursday:

Windows & Wipe Down:

- Wipe down all surfaces/dust
- Clean windows
- Wipe out window sills

~Wash curtains- rotating rooms every week

- Deep clean/organize something
- Kitchen

~Wash kitchen towels, hot pads, table cloth, etc

Fridays – R 4 Floors:

1. Clean all floors

~Wash any washable rugs

EVERYDAY:

- Wash a load of laundry
- Clean table and empty sink nightly
- Bonus: do a quick sweep in high traffic areas

It may look daunting to see it all written out- just focus on how rewarding it'll be to mark tasks off when complete! If task lists and check marks aren't enough to motivate you... try setting an alarm for 30 minutes or so and get as much done as you can before the alarm goes off. We all know the amount of cleaning we can get done in the 15 minutes before someone comes over - imagine how much you could accomplish by applying that level of energy to thirty minutes. If you can't complete that day's tasks in one go; Take a break • Reward yourself • Repeat as many times as it takes to complete everything • Then, bask in the awesomeness of a job well done! Or, like us, watch your kids and/or pets make a mess all over again while enjoying the peace of mind that even though it might not be tidy - it is clean! Your home much like life doesn't have to be picture perfect to be beautiful/enjoyed. We hope this helps! And, that you and yours have a blessed, beautiful spring!! @okseasonedsisters

DAPHNE MARSHALL - HELPING YOU "LAND" THE PERFECT HOME

By AAH Amy Smith

Daphne Marshall, born and raised in the thriving town of Marshall, OK (population: small but mighty), grew up embracing the farm life with her parents and her brother, Derek. After a brief time at Oklahoma State University, she decided to take flight, literally, and enrolled in airline school. There, she mastered the art of travel planning, airline attending, and group planning, basically becoming the human version of Expedia before Expedia even existed.

For over a decade, Daphne wrangled large conferences, chartered planes, and orchestrated dream vacations from Dallas to Jamaica, ensuring countless people got their much-needed escape (and maybe a tan in the process). Eventually, she found her groove as a meeting planner, coordinating events that packed hundreds, sometimes thousands, of attendees.

But let's talk real estate because Daphne always had an eye for a good property. Over the last 35 years, she's been buying, selling, and flipping homes like it's her side hustle (which, spoiler alert, it now is). Recently, she made it official and earned her real estate license, just in time for those interest rates to start behaving themselves again. Now, whether you're looking to list, buy, or just daydream about your perfect home, Daphne's here to make it happen.

She's found her perfect home at Cobblestone Realty Partners in Enid, where hands-on training and stellar service make all the difference. Daphne stated that it's meeting different people, hearing what is bringing them to the area, or hearing their story on how they got where they are today - everyone has a story and my part will play a small one in their creating memories in a home, office or land that they always dreamed of having"

When she's not out showing houses or making deals, you can find her back on the farm, tending to her garden, hanging out with her donkeys (because they're excellent listeners), or cruising through the countryside, taking in the scenery of the place she'll always call home.

Need a real estate pro with a knack for finding "the one" (she's a matchmaker for the perfect home, not a soulmate; you're on your own there)? Give Daphne a call! Personal: 405-853-6929 | Office: 580-297-9901

LIBRARY RECEIVES GRANT

Hennessey Library Group Gets Grant for Kids' Books

On Monday, March 17, Sharon Saulmon from Friends of the Library in Oklahoma (FOLIO) delivered 100 children's books to the Hennessey Friends of the Library as part of a grant.

Ginger Cox, the vice president of Hennessey Friends of the Library, found out about a special grant from FOLIO. This grant helps public libraries across Oklahoma by giving them books. The goal is to make sure kids have books at home to help them get ready for school. Studies show that kids who don't have books at home may struggle more in school, which can affect their future learning.

The Hennessey FOL partnered with The Hennessey Girl Scout Troop 8015 plan to start a small lending library on the north side of town. This way, kids can pick up books to read and return them when they're done so others can enjoy them, too! photo by AAH Jack Quirk.
