HENNESSEY PD WELCOMES NEWEST OFFICER, JOHN GAY II

by AAH Angela Bruner

Say hello to the newest member of the Hennessey Police Department—John Gay II

John was working for Pope Distributing, making regular stops around town, when a quick chat with Officer Logan Blackburn changed everything. While on his route, John asked the golden question: “Hey, is Hennessey PD hiring?” Turns out, they were—and just like that, a new path opened up.

With an associate's degree in Criminal Justice already under his belt, John was more than ready to take the leap. He officially joined the department this spring and is set to head to the Enid Police Academy in July.

John currently lives in Enid but plans to move to Fairmont, putting him closer to the area he now serves and protects. Between his strong work ethic, easygoing nature, and commitment to the job, Officer Gay is already fitting in just fine.

From the delivery truck to patrol car, John's journey proves you never know where one conversation might lead.

HENNESSEY CLIPPER BUILDING SOLD

On Wednesday, April 2, the former Hennessey Clipper newspaper building, located at 117 S. Main St., was sold at auction. For over 130 years, the Clipper was a cornerstone of the Hennessey, Oklahoma, community, covering local events and serving as a vital news source. First published on June 13, 1889, by J.B. Campbell, it was originally a weekly paper with a $1 yearly subscription.

By 1893, C.H. Miller later took over as editor and publisher, giving the paper a Republican perspective and adjusting its layout. Around 1902–1903, N.F. Daves became the publisher and moved the publication to Thursdays. By 1906, the Clipper had 600 subscribers.

The Walter family took ownership in 1904. In 1977, Bill Walter returned to Hennessey as editor and publisher, joined by Barb Walter in 1978 as managing editor. They co-published the paper for 35 years, selling it in 2014 to The Trail Miller Company, which owned other small-town papers across Oklahoma.

In August 2020, the Clipper shifted to a bimonthly publication, expanding its focus to broader topics across western Oklahoma. As a result, it could no longer publish legal notices or obituaries, marking the end of its role as Hennessey's main news source.

The Hennessey Post, part of the "All About Hennessey" platform, began publishing a newspaper digitally in 2020, added a print version in 2021, and joined the Oklahoma Press Association in 2023, becoming the town's official newspaper.

The Hennessey and Canton newspaper buildings were sold by Wiggins Auction Company of Enid. The Hennessey building sold for $26,000 and the Canton building for $16,000—both purchased by Cory Shuman of Utah via phone.

FOOD, FUN, AND FIREFIGHTERS!

The Hennessey Fire Department hosted its annual open house on Saturday, April 5th, and not even the cold, dreary weather could keep the crowd away. Over 300 people showed up to enjoy a warm meal, good company, and a chance to support the department.

Firefighters served up a great dinner of pork, potatoes, beans, rolls, and yes, ice cream—with ingredients donated by generous local businesses. The meal was served by donation, with all proceeds supporting the department.

Attendees also had the chance to win great prizes, including ice chests, end tables, HFD T-shirts, and more. Photos by AAH Jack Quirk

TURBINE FIRE SOUTHEAST OF HENNESSEY SPARKS ATTENTION

Early Friday morning, April 4th, around 5:45 AM, the Dover Fire Department was called out to a wind turbine fire near N2900 and E670 roads, just southeast of Hennessey. The fire kicked off after a lightning strike hit one of the turbine blades, setting it ablaze something local residents definitely noticed lighting up the sky.

So... How Often Does This Happen?

Not every day, but more than you’d think. Turbine fires aren’t super common, but when they do happen, it’s a headache. These towers are way up there and often planted in hard-to-reach spots, which makes it tricky and sometimes impossible for firefighters to get the fire under control.

Why Do Turbines Catch Fire?

Lightning is the main troublemaker these towers are tall, exposed, and basically sitting ducks during a storm. And once a fire starts? It doesn’t take long before the whole thing’s toast. Because they are so tall, really the only thing the fire departments can do is make sure that the area around the structure doesn’t catch on fire. photo by AAH Jack Quirk

HENNESSEY BAND ROCKS STATE!

Big shoutout to the Hennessey Band for nailing an Excellent rating on stage and a Superior in sight reading at State!

This is their third trip to State, and with Mr. Powers at the helm, they're just getting better and better. His leadership has really turned the program around, and you can totally see (or hear) the impact!

Congrats, band! Your hard work, talent, and dedication are making Hennessey so proud!

HENNESSEY HIGH SCHOOL STAR NAMED ACADEMIC ALL-STATERS FOR EXCELLENCE IN BASKETBALL AND ACADEMICS

Katie Kennedy, a standout player from Hennessey High School, has been recognized for her exceptional academic and athletic achievements by being named an Academic All-Stater by the Oklahoma Girls Basketball Coaches Association (OGBCA). This honor is awarded to student-athletes who excel both in the classroom and on the basketball court.

Katie's dedication to basketball is evident in her performance. As a sophomore, she averaged 18 points per game, becoming the focal point of her team's offense.

Her coach has noted her remarkable balance and scoring versatility. Despite facing a severe knee injury during a team camp two summers ago, Katie's resilience and work ethic have been exemplary. She attempted a comeback around Christmas but encountered another setback, underscoring her determination and passion for the game. Her coach, who has mentored several all-state guards over a 28-year career, places Katie among the best, highlighting her toughness and commitment. Beyond her athletic prowess, Katie is celebrated for her character, kindness, and humility, earning respect from peers and teachers alike. Her family also boasts athletic talent, with her older brother currently pitching for Oklahoma State University.

The OGBCA's All-State games are scheduled for June 1 at Mustang High School, featuring matchups for small, large, and mid-sized schools.

Where are they now? Stacy (Smith) Sturgill

by AAH Shelley Muzny

Stacy (Smith) Sturgill was born and raised in Hennessey, OK, by her parents Jerry and the late Marilyn Smith. She has two sisters, Sherri Fipps and Ronda Creevan. Stacy graduated from Hennessey High School in 2000. After graduation, she attended the Autry Dental Assisting Program from 2001 to 2002.

In 2002, Stacy met Sheldon Sturgill through mutual friends when he moved to Hennessey from Hickory, NC, to work for Morgan Dollar Motorsports in the NASCAR Craftsman Truck Series. They married on March 8, 2003, and have been together for over 22 years. Sheldon is the son of Greg (Tammy) Sturgill of Pikeville, KY, and Rachel Sturgill of Narrows, VA.

After their marriage, Stacy and Sheldon moved to Eolia, KY, where Sheldon is originally from. During this time, Stacy was a stay-at-home mom for several years before starting her career in home health at Appalachian Regional Healthcare. They lived in Kentucky for seven years before returning to Hennessey due to the slowdown in the coal industry.

Upon returning to Hennessey, Stacy worked for four years at the Hennessey Early Childhood Center as a teacher's aide. She is currently the Head Start teacher at Big Five Community in Hennessey and is also attending college at Northern Oklahoma College (NOC) to obtain her associate degree in Early Childhood Education. Sheldon has worked in the oilfield for 15 years and is a service technician for Imperative Chemical.

Stacy and Sheldon have four sons: Keeton and his wife Kacie, Regan, Blaney, and Tryson. Stacy loves spending time with her boys, watching Tryson and Blaney play football, and supporting Blaney in his band performances and racing. She enjoys baking, cooking for her family, gardening, decorating, and spending time with the kids in her class. Her passion for gardening was inspired by her father, who grew an exceptional garden, and she has passed that love on to Tryson.

Stacy always has a smile and a hug for everyone she meets. She welcomes her sons' friends into her home and treats them like her own. You will not find a more loving, caring, and supportive person than Stacy. To be her friend or to know her is truly a gift.
