HENNESSEY SCHOOL BOARD EYES FUTURE BOND ISSUE FOR FACILITY UPGRADES

Community input sought as "The Dome" nears payoff.

At its regular meeting on July 14th, the Hennessey Board of Education began early discussions about a possible new bond issue that could fund facility upgrades across the district once the Eagle Event Center, known as "The Dome", is paid off.

Superintendent Jason Sternberger informed board members that the district's net assessed valuation has grown faster than expected in recent years. This growth has allowed the district to make accelerated payments on existing bonds while maintaining the current millage rate, potentially opening the door to a new small bond issue without increasing the tax burden on residents.

Several project ideas were presented, with a focus on athletic facilities. Among the top priorities mentioned were a new softball locker room, additional locker rooms and restrooms, and a redesign of the baseball area. Storage and dressing room needs were also highlighted as ongoing concerns.

Sternberger stressed the importance of community involvement before moving forward. "We want to hear from the public," he said. "We need to know what projects they see as important and what they would support."

No official decisions have been made, but the board is expected to continue exploring options and gathering feedback in the coming months.

Loud Luncheon: Class of '79 Brings the Party to Sparky's

If you were at Sparky's Restaurant on Friday, July 18th, and thought a bachelorette party had broken out at lunchtime, don't worry, it was just the Hennessey High School Class of 1979 Ladies catching up and turning the volume (and the laughs) all the way up.

Thirteen members of the class gathered for a reunion of sorts, sharing stories, memories, and maybe a few secrets best left in 1979. And here's a bit of nostalgia: five of these ladies were part of the last-ever 1st-grade class at the historic Lacy School.

The lunch turned into a four-hour laugh-fest, complete with plans to do it again soon, and maybe warn the restaurant next time!

Summertime Salad

Well, Fourth of July is behind us so the okseasonedsisters are ready for some family birthdays, back to school, and FALL! Unfortunately, we still have to make it through the height of the summertime heat. Fortunately, this "salad" is a tasty, no-heat way to make these dog days of summer more enjoyable. If you're anything like us, then you look for ways to leave your oven off as much as possible during this season... opting for cool/light/refreshing meals straight from the garden, farmers market or local produce aisle.

As always, this recipe is a jumping off point. Modify it and make it your own! The recipe calls for canned sweet corn but if you have access to fresh corn, by all means use it- we just don't have a measurement for you- Eyeball it, put in the amount that looks right to you and your taste buds.

1 can sweet crisp corn, drained
2 avocados, diced
Cilantro, chopped
Cherry tomatoes, diced up
½ purple onion, chopped small
2 Tbsp lime juice (more to taste)
1-2 Tbsp mayo, enough to make it all creamy

Up your game and add some cooked, diced chicken to make it extra yummy! *Keep it heatless by getting a rotisserie chicken from the store or even just some grilled or roasted chicken from a restaurant in town... actually, fried chicken could be good too!

Serve on a bed of chopped lettuce or as a lettuce wrap or throw the lettuce in and wrap it in a tortilla! It also makes a great dip for chips! See, the options really are endless!

Stay cool out there, fall will be here before we know it!

2025 WHEAT HARVEST CHALLENGES

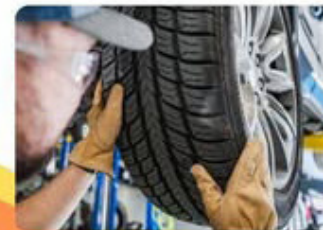

This year's wheat harvest, which officially began on May 23rd, has been unusually difficult and drawn out due to persistent rains. Although the first load was delivered on June 10th, storms on July 3rd, 6th, and 8th created major delays. Normally, a 3-4 week process, the harvest stretched well beyond two months, with muddy conditions and rampant weeds forcing some farmers to spray twice before cutting. As of Monday, two farmers are still finishing up, one battling through mud holes.

Debbie Gaither at CHS in Hennessey stated that the crop quality this year was mixed, ranging from poor to decent depending on the field. Test weights varied from 53 to 62 pounds, with later cuts falling around 55, below the preferred 60+. Protein content also fluctuated between 8.2% and 14%. Yields were mostly below the desired 50 bushels per acre.

So far, 297,000 bushels have been received as of Monday at the CHS Elevator in Hennessey, putting 2025 in the "okay" category. For comparison: 433,980 bushels came in 2023, 127,000 in 2022, and 674,000 in 2016. In a good year with ideal weather, harvests can top 400,000 bushels in just one month, as seen in 2020.

Where are they now? Carol Roller

by AAH Shelley Muzny

Carol (Franks) Roller was raised in Hennessey, Oklahoma, by her parents, David and Charlene Franks. She has three siblings: Clinton Franks, Krista Lewis, and Janet Stamm. Carol graduated from Hennessey High School in 1984. After high school, she attended Southwestern Oklahoma State University (SWOSU), where she earned a degree in Family and Consumer Science (Home Economics) in 1989, with a minor in Early Childhood/Child Development.

Following her graduation, Carol worked at Kingfisher Daycare for a couple of years. She then joined Pillsbury/ADM Milling, where she worked for nine years before obtaining her teaching certificate. Carol started her teaching career as a Paraprofessional at Hennessey Public Schools and later moved to St. Joseph Catholic School. She taught kindergarten for six years and pre-kindergarten for one year.

Currently, she is in her fifth year as the Director of the Hennessey Public Schools Daycare Center. Carol married David Roller, a 1979 graduate of Hennessey and a deputy for Kingfisher County Sheriff's Office, on July 17, 1993. They have two daughters: Ciara Eberle, 28, who is married to Christian and has three children, including a four-year-old son named Lincoln and one-and-a-half-year-old twin daughters, Remiel and Gabriella. Their younger daughter, Tori Roller, 26, is a Certified Medical Assistant and a dog mom to Chester, a Golden Retriever.

Carol enjoys cooking and trying new recipes that David finds for her. She loves traveling and, most importantly, spending quality time with her family.

CAT Inspires KAT

The Hennessey Community Action Team (CAT) has made a name for itself over the years with countless stories of compassion and life-changing community efforts. Inspired by their success, Maitland Pickle of the All About Network began asking questions, and the answers sparked a movement.

Maitland organized an informational meeting in Kingfisher to explore the idea of forming a similar group. On Tuesday, July 15th, about 20 Kingfisher-area residents gathered to hear from Hennessey's own Jimmy Berkenbile, who shared the inspiring impact of CAT's work. By the end of the meeting, the Kingfisher Action Team (KAT) was officially born, complete with a seven-member leadership board.

KAT will mirror the CAT model, offering help and hope to those in need throughout the Kingfisher area. Next steps include filing for nonprofit status, creating bylaws, and planning their first outreach projects.

Congratulations to KAT's inaugural leadership team:

President: Maitland Pickle

Co-Vice Presidents: Dawn Taylor and Paula Leffingwell

Treasurer: Dana Terrell

Secretary: Patty Stoudemire

At-Large Members: Tim McAnally and Bradley Mayes

With heart, vision, and action, KAT is ready to make a difference.

The Silver Medal for Employment Goes to Darren Harak

By Sara Jane Richter

A true anniversary has arrived. Local son Darren Harak has dedicated 25 years of service to Garrison Lumber, marking his silver anniversary—quite an accomplishment in today's climate of frequent job changes. He is a humble, hard-working man who genuinely believes he has made a positive impact on his company and community, and he is absolutely right.

His employer, Diane Garrison, holds him in high regard for his work ethic, sense of responsibility, and friendship. During the protracted illness and eventual loss of her husband Joe, she relied heavily on Darren. He stepped up to shoulder additional responsibilities and provided much-needed stability during this challenging time.

Darren began his journey at Garrison Lumber in June 1997. He took a brief hiatus from 2011 to 2013, but upon his return, he assumed even more responsibility. His work activities evolved from heavy lifting and loading trucks to driving delivery vehicles, ordering inventory, and overseeing operations. He has experienced the business from the ground up, transitioning from the sawdust-filled lumber yard to the main office, where he manages invoices and payouts.

He claims the best part of each workday is interacting with his customers, always greeting them with a friendly smile. While he believes the core of the business has remained constant over the years, he has noticed some changes in customer purchasing trends. These days, sales of roofing materials and sheetrock have decreased, indicating a shift in available materials and the construction landscape. Darren stays informed by keeping a close eye on customer needs and industry innovations as they come and go.

When he's not at work, Darren loves spending quality time with his family: his wife Rachelle and their daughter Peighton, who is a sophomore dual major in Spanish and hospitality at Oklahoma State University. The Harak family has enjoyed six Disney cruises, embracing numerous high-seas adventures together. In addition to family time, Darren also loves hanging out with friends and excels at cornhole. He participates in a weekly cornhole league and consistently throws accurate beanbags for the win.

Darren describes himself as a humble, hardworking man who prefers to remain modest about his achievements. He approaches his tasks with a willingness to help, often saying, "Sure, I can do that too." All companies—both large and small, urban and rural—could benefit from employees like Mr. Harak. Hennessey should take pride in having a man who continually strives for growth in his work, family, and community.

At just 47 years old, Darren has many more years ahead in his career, and he embraces the future with enthusiasm. He understands his business and eagerly anticipates future contributions to both his hometown and Garrison Lumber. Be sure to drop by the lumber yard soon and wish Darren Harak a happy silver anniversary. He would truly appreciate your kind words!

PREPARE TO GET SOAKED: HENNESSEY WATER WARS 2025 IS BIGGER, BETTER, AND WETTER!

Mark your calendars and hide your dry clothes, Hennessey Water Wars 2025 is coming in hot (and very wet) on Wednesday, August 13th, from 6:00 to 8:00 PM! Hosted annually by the Hennessey Fire Department as a back-to-school splash-fest, this year's event promises to be the most epic soak-down in town history.

And guess what? It's new and improved. That's right, more trucks, and more water! Hennessey firefighters want to ensure maximum splash radius. Their mission? Get Hennessey as wet as humanly possible.

Each truck will follow assigned routes to avoid doubling back and to ensure water coverage across town is efficient and drenching. Pro tip: The more of you that gather together, the more likely you are to get hosed!

Here's where you can grab your ammo—err, we mean balloons:

Pat Hennessey Park, Arapaho Street
LiFE-EMS on Oklahoma Street
Boy Scout Park (S. Cheyenne & 2nd St.)
Cristo Rae Church

About 3,500 water balloons will be tossed from fire trucks and stationed around town. And if that's not enough, they're thinking about parking tanker trucks in the gravel parking lot west of the auditorium with hoses for the kids to hose down the fire crews as they pass by!

This year, an official Water Wars Command Center will help dispatch trucks where the fun is happening—so if your block's feeling dry, rally the kids and make some noise!

Got a hose? A super soaker? A cooler full of balloons? Perfect. Let the reverse splash attack begin! Firefighters might have the big hoses, but you've got water power too—so be ready to drench them right back.

Smile and Spray! The All About Hennessey crew will be out filming a video about the mayhem, so don't forget to wave (or throw a balloon their way—we dare you). It's wild. It's wet. It's the most fun you'll have in your front yard all year. See you in the splash zone!

-HENNESSEY'S HOMETOWN NEWSPAPER-

Meet the Three New Faces at Hennessey Schools

Hennessey students will be seeing some new faces around the halls this year. Three new teachers are joining the elementary staff, and each one brings a solid background, a heart for kids, and a passion for education.

Second Grade – Becky Hood

Becky Hood is Hennessey's new second-grade teacher. She holds certifications in elementary teaching and school administration, with a master's in educational leadership from OU and a bachelor's from Simpson University. Becky brings years of experience from Epic Charter Schools, where she served as a teacher, principal, and development specialist. She's also taught at Deer Creek Public Schools and directed Steppingstone Mother's Day Out in Edmond.

Elementary Special Education Shawna Winstead

Shawna Winstead joins as the new elementary special education teacher. She holds a bachelor's in special education from UCO and a master's in school administration from Texas A&M. Shawna has served as a special education principal at Epic Charter Schools and has experience as dean of students in Newcastle and as a teacher at Mustang Valley Elementary.

Elementary Music – Olivia Fletcher

Olivia Fletcher is the new elementary music teacher. She holds a doctorate from Michigan State, a master's from Arizona State, and a bachelor's from Ithaca College, all in music. Olivia has taught bassoon at the college level and worked in K-12 music classrooms in New York, including general music, band, and music appreciation.

Hennessey Schools are thrilled to welcome these talented educators to their team and look forward to the positive impact they will have on the students and the community.

BACK TO SCHOOL SHOP HOP

Join the fun at 3 local shops! Shop Hennessey Mercantile, Honey & Co and Black Diamond Threads to play!

Here's how it works:

1. Grab a Shop Hop Card at your first stop.
2. Visit all three shops and snap a photo with an item at each one.
3. Post your pics on your own Facebook page ~ and tag the shop!
All three shops will share it!
4. Get your card stamped at each location.
5. Once you've collected all 3 stamps, you'll be entered to win a $100 gift certificate - good at any of the participating shops!

Let's kick off the school year with some shopping and fun!

Kingfisher County Shines at State Convention

Kingfisher County was well represented at the Oklahoma Home and Community Education (OHCE) State Convention held in Oklahoma City on June 15. Local members made their presence known, and one even brought home a top honor.

A big congratulations goes to Maxine Helgeson of the Hennessey Farmerette Group, who was named the Northwest District OHCE Member of the Year. The award was presented by Teo Hair and recognized Maxine's outstanding dedication and service. It was a proud moment for both Maxine and the entire Kingfisher County delegation.

Attending the convention were Lindy Petermann, Kingfisher County OHCE Educator, along with Hennessey Farmerettes members Pansy Wheeler, Margie McConnell, and Paula Nicholson, alongside Helgeson. These women continue to represent their communities with pride, passion, and purpose.

Way to go, ladies, and thank you for representing Kingfisher County so well.
