EAGLES BEAT TISHOMINGO 49–21, REACH FIRST STATE QUARTERFINAL SINCE 2014

It was a game of "firsts" for the Hennessey Football Eagles as they hosted the visiting Tishomingo Indians in the opening round of the 2026 OSSAA Class 2A-II State Championship Playoffs.

For the visitors, it was their first playoff appearance in 15 years, seeking their first playoff win in 22 years. The Eagles themselves, though having made the playoffs 3 consecutive years and 5 of the last 7, were searching for their first playoff win since 2017 and their first trip to the state quarterfinals since 2014.

When the dust settled on Friday night, the Eagles had indeed secured their first playoff win after 9 seasons, and first trip to the quarters in 12, with their hard-fought 49-21 victory over the Indians (6-5).

The game got started with a bang - a 58-yard Beau Vinson Pick-6 on the game's 4th play from scrimmage.
Add on 2 Levi Ferrell touchdown runs on the Eagles first 2 offensive possessions, one following a "near" Pick-6 by Brytan Gardner, and at 21-0 three plays into the 2nd quarter, the route felt like it was on.

But in the blink of an eye things changed. The Indians returned the ensuing kickoff for a touchdown, then forced an Eagle fumble, scoring again 3 plays later, and just like that it was a 1-score game, 21-14.

The Eagles were not phased, as they put together a 12-play, 75-yard scoring drive of their own, capped off by Kaleb Peach's first offensive run from scrimmage at fullback – a 3-yard touchdown dive that essentially was all the points the Eagles needed to secure their playoff victory.

The Indian's lone second half touchdown gave the visitors some hope, but when Beau Vinson returned the following kickoff back 80 yards for the TD, that hope started to diminish, and was completely squashed with Ferrell's 3rd touchdown run of the game and Brytan Gardner's first TD reception of the season in the 4th to send the visitors to the offseason and the Eagles to the quarterfinals.

The stat sheet shows Eagles dominance. Both teams ran 54 plays from scrimmage, though the Eagles achieved 23 first downs to the Indians 13. The Eagles outgained the visitors 380 yards to 225, with a season-high 316 rushing yards with 4 TD runs. The Indians were held to 5 of 15 on 3rd down while the Eagles only faced 3rd down 9 times all game. The Eagles picked off 3 Indian passes – Beau Vinson, Brytan Gardner, and Hagen Copeland – 1 for a touchdown, another returned to the 1 yard line, and their first kickoff return for a TD this season. The undisciplined Indians were assessed 10 penalties for 98 yards – 5 of which were for unnecessary roughness, flagrant facemask, or unsportsmanlike conduct.

QB Levi Ferrell ran the ball 28 times for a career-high 193 yards and 3 touchdowns, giving the senior over 1,000 yards rushing on the season and +2,000 in his high school career. With his 3 TD runs on the night, giving him 24 this season, Ferrell moved past Augie McCulley ('07) into a tie for 4th all-time in single-season rushing touchdowns with Matt Leutjen ('09). Going 6 of 9 for 64 yards and 1 touchdown through the air, Ferrell also moved into a tie with Clint Cooper ('06-07) for 8th all-time in career TD passes with 22.

Senior RB Mario Lopez had a season-high 90 yards rushing on 11 carries, adding 3 tackles at Cornerback with 1 tackle for loss defensively.

Beau Vinson shined, as the junior had 3 catches for 27 yards (1 shy of tying Kevin Trillo ('21-24) for 9th all-time in Career Receiving Yards), a 58-yard interception return for TD, an 80-yard kickoff return for TD, a team-lead 9 total tackles (6 solos, 3 assists), with 2 pass breakups.

Freshman Placekicker David Renteria excelled for the special teams as well, going a perfect 5 for 5 on point-after-tries.

The opening round playoff victory propels the Eagles to the Quarterfinals on the road next Friday night, November 20th, at the Class 2A-II #1 ranked, undefeated Holdenville Wolverines (11-0). Reminiscent of the 2010 Semifinals v. Millwood, you have to beat the best to be the best. Round #2 kicks off at 7:00 pm. by Eagle Voice ~ Photo by AAH Shelley Muzny

50 YEARS OF QUAIL, CELEBRITIES AND FAMILY TRADITION

by All About Hennessey – Jack Quirk

How the Cline family of Hennessey helped make the Grand National Quail Hunt an Oklahoma tradition.

For nearly 50 years, the Cline family of Hennessey has been part of one of Oklahoma's most unusual traditions, the Grand National Quail Hunt. What began as an effort to attract business and investment to Oklahoma has brought celebrities, athletes, military leaders, and business executives to the state.

Perry Cline was just 13 when he became involved. His father, Pat Cline, helped establish the event as an economic development tool, introducing influential visitors to Oklahoma through quail hunting.

Over the years, guests have included Toby Keith, Roy Clark, Johnny Bench, Tennessee Ernie Ford, Dub Taylor, Lee Majors, Bruce Boxleitner, and Frank Stallone.

FROM THE BOLENBACHS TO THE CLINES

For years, the South Hunt was hosted at the Bolenbach family's Paradise Valley Ranch. Irvin Bolenbach and his family were instrumental in the event's early years.

When the Bolenbachs stepped away, Perry took over. Today, Perry and his wife, Stacy, host approximately 12 to 18 hunters at their working ranch near Hennessey.

Unlike some of the more elaborate hunting locations, the Cline ranch offers a down-home atmosphere.

"We're a working ranch. But everybody wants to come to our place!" Stacy laughed.

Daddy Brad's Barbecue from Piedmont provides lunch from a specially equipped cooking truck, while Stacy handles dessert.

HUNTING WITH THE STARS

Perry remembers growing up listening to Roy Clark, Dub Taylor, and Tennessee Ernie Ford singing and telling stories around a player piano.

He's guided Johnny Bench, whom he describes as an exceptional shotgun shooter, Toby Keith, and even Olympic shooting medalists who discovered wild quail are considerably harder to hit than clay targets.

One year, Perry took approximately 15 members of the Olympic shooting team hunting following their exhibition.

Frank Stallone became another regular visitor. Stacy recalls Frank suggesting Perry would be perfect for a role in his brother Sylvester's television series Tulsa King.

Frank even sent Sylvester video of Perry, who reportedly thought he looked like the real deal.

Stacy joked that Perry might be better suited for a fight scene than a speaking role!

MORE THAN JUST HUNTING

Held each November, the Grand National includes two days of hunting, shooting exhibitions, dinners, auctions, and an awards banquet.

The event depends on volunteer ranchers, guides, and dog handlers who contribute their time and resources.

Perry credits longtime friend and former Grand National president, the late Bill Chaffin, with helping transition the South Hunt to the Cline ranch.

A FAMILY TRADITION

For Perry, continuing the hunt is about honoring his father.

"It's a lot of work. I enjoy it, but it meant a lot to my father, and that means a lot to me," Perry explained.

Today, Perry and Stacy's children help carry on the tradition.

"What in life that is good is not a lot of work?" Perry asked. "If you want to enjoy something a lot, you've got to work at it."

And after nearly 50 years, the Cline family is still welcoming hunters to Hennessey, just as generations before them.

OKLAHOMA AG IN THE CLASSROOM

Annie Davis, Oklahoma Ag in the Classroom (AITC) State Coordinator and author of Flat Aggie and Annie, recently visited Mrs. Humphries' second-grade classroom for a fun-filled day of agricultural literacy!

Flat Aggie and Annie is a children's book about the adventures of twins, Aggie and Annie, who get flattened by their barn door and discover all the fun adventures that come with being flat!

During her visit, Davis talked with students about the AITC Pizza Challenge, read an accurate agriculture book about pizza, and answered students' questions about the writing and publishing process. Students also received Aggie and Annie stickers, and Davis donated an accurate agriculture book to the school library to encourage even more agricultural reading and learning.

Mrs. Humphries' students have also been busy writing letters to people across Oklahoma and sending them their very own set of Flat Aggie and Annie to take along on agricultural adventures! This has been a fun and meaningful way for students to explore agriculture, make connections with others across the state, and share what they are learning about Oklahoma's food and fiber industry.

The visit included a special photo opportunity with a giant check celebrating Mrs. Humphries' recent selection as a $500 Oklahoma Pork Council and Ag in the Classroom grant recipient!

Mrs. Humphries plans to use her grant funds to purchase a toaster oven for classroom cooking and baking, along with additional supplies to support hands-on learning through Oklahoma Ag in the Classroom lessons. These activities will help students develop a better understanding of agriculture and the food and fiber system.

Through its partnership with Oklahoma Ag in the Classroom, the Oklahoma Pork Council awards six $500 grants each in the fall and spring to educators across Oklahoma who are working to expand agricultural literacy in their classrooms.

Congratulations to Mrs. Humphries and her students! We are excited to see all the learning, cooking, and agricultural discoveries ahead!

HONORING THOSE WHO SERVED

Hennessey Nursing & Rehab celebrated Veterans Day alongside Valir Hospice, taking a special moment to recognize and thank the veterans who call Hennessey Nursing & Rehab home.

Daniel Latiolais, Hospice Consultant with Valir Hospice, presented residents with special certificates honoring their service and recited a beautiful poem. Everyone also came together to sing "God Bless America," making the celebration even more meaningful.

Adding a special touch, students from Hennessey's STEM program colored personalized thank-you notes and bookmarks for each veteran, reminding them that their service is appreciated by all generations.
A heartfelt thank you to these veterans for their service, sacrifice, and dedication to our country. Their stories and sacrifices deserve to be remembered, not just on Veterans Day, but every day.

Resident Danny Shimanek proudly displays his certificate of appreciation alongside Daniel Latiolais.

HENNESSEY STUDENTS HONOR LOCAL VETERANS WITH MUSIC AND REMEMBRANCE

Members of Hennessey's National Honor Society escorted local veterans into the high school auditorium Wednesday, Nov. 11, as Hennessey Public Schools gathered to thank them for their service. Students, school staff, families and friends took part in the Veterans Day assembly, with students leading much of the program.

Clare Munroe led the Pledge of Allegiance, and the Hennessey High School Band performed the national anthem. Kaleb Peach shared the history of Veterans Day, and the fifth- and sixth-grade choirs, directed by Melissa Faulkner, sang "We Celebrate America."

Sammy Sosa introduced guest speaker Lt. Col. Shannon Elledge, who delivered the Veterans Day address. Amy Rawlings gave a presentation recognizing Hennessey veterans, and Wyatt Muzny shared the history of the armed forces. The Pride of Hennessey Band, under the direction of Danny Powers, performed "Armed Forces on Parade."

The assembly also remembered service members who were prisoners of war or remain missing in action. Emily Ramirez led the POW/MIA remembrance, followed by a moment of silence and the playing of "Taps" by Eli Moery. National Honor Society members then escorted the veterans out of the auditorium.

The printed program extended special thanks to the veterans and families in attendance, National Honor Society sponsors Carol Keeton and Amy Rawlings, and the students and school staff who helped with the assembly. Photos by AAH Shelley Muzny

MOTORCYCLE BUILT FOR TWO?

Roger McEachern of Hennessey has been riding motorcycles for years, but about six years ago, he picked up a passenger who wasn't about to be left behind.

Meet Dover, Roger's four-legged riding buddy. Roger rescued her from Dover, Oklahoma, which explains the name. Apparently, Dover didn't care where they were going, as long as he got to go!

Roger explained that Dover loved riding in the car, but every time Roger fired up the motorcycle and headed out without her, Dover just couldn't understand why she wasn't invited.

So, like any good dog owner, Roger did the only logical thing. He got his dog a motorcycle!

Well, sort of.

Roger found an old Harley-Davidson that needed some work, but it had one very important accessory already attached: a sidecar!

After a lot of tinkering, repairs, Roger got the Harley running. Finally, Dover had its own seat, and the two were ready to hit the open road.

But there was one small problem.

Dover apparently didn't understand that jumping out of a moving motorcycle sidecar was a bad idea. If he spotted a squirrel, rabbit, or anything else that needed investigating, he was ready to bail out, regardless of speed!

Roger quickly realized that his passenger needed a seat belt. So he fitted Dover with a harness and secured him safely in the sidecar.

Next came the goggles. After a little practice, Dover got used to wearing them, and now they're just part of her regular riding gear.

These days, Dover looks like a seasoned biker, complete with goggles, her own sidecar, and a chauffeur who takes her everywhere.

And unlike most motorcycle passengers, Dover probably doesn't complain about the music, the route, or how fast they're going.

So if you see a Harley rolling through Hennessey with a goggle-wearing dog riding shotgun, don't worry. That's just Roger and Dover out for a ride.

R AND R FIREARMS GETS DOWN TO BUSINESS IN HENNESSEY

When Ray and Tiffany opened R and R Firearms in August of this year, they were putting plans in motion for their future while bringing to life an idea that had been years in the making.

For Ray, the name R and R carries special meaning. Years ago, he and his father had discussed opening a business together under that name. Although they never had the opportunity, Ray never forgot the idea. When he and Tiffany decided to open their firearms store, the name was a natural choice.

Ray's interest in firearms goes back many years, particularly his appreciation for older models. His personal collection includes firearms dating back to the early 1900s, with a special interest in those manufactured during the 1950s and 1960s. Tiffany, on the other hand, admits she knew very little about firearms when they started. As the town administrator, she already has a full-time career but has taken an active role in the business, including managing much of its social media presence.

The couple's retirement plans also influenced their decision to open R and R Firearms. Rather than waiting until retirement, they wanted to give the business time to grow while they continue working, with hopes of having an established, profitable operation when that next chapter arrives. For Ray, it's also an opportunity to stay busy doing something he enjoys.

"I've got to have something to do, and I enjoy guns," Ray said.

That longtime interest is reflected in the store's inventory. R and R Firearms buys and sells new and used firearms, including handguns, rifles and shotguns, while also offering special orders and firearm transfers. Ray takes particular pride in the selection of used firearms and continues looking for additional inventory, including individual firearms and collections.

In one recent instance, a customer contacted Ray about transferring a shotgun purchased through a larger retailer. After discussing what the customer wanted, Ray matched the retailer's price, saving the customer a trip to Tulsa. It's an example of the personal service Ray believes gives a locally owned store an advantage over larger retailers.

"I don't judge anybody when they come through the door," Ray said. He welcomes customers of all experience levels, enjoys answering questions and wants people to feel comfortable stopping by, even if they aren't ready to make a purchase. That same approach carries over to the store's hours, which are designed to accommodate customers who work during the day.

R and R Firearms currently operates part time as the couple continues their regular careers. Evening hours and appointments outside regular business hours help provide additional flexibility when their schedules allow. Customers are encouraged to check the store's Facebook page for updates.

As they continue adding inventory and building customer relationships, Ray and Tiffany are taking a measured approach to growth. What the business looks like after retirement remains to be seen, but for now, they're building something of their own, one customer at a time, while giving new life to a family dream that started years ago.

R and R Firearms is located at 114 S. Cherokee in Hennessey and can be reached by phone at 405-298-1450.

HENNESSEY FRIENDS OF THE POLICE HOSTS LUNCH FUNDRAISER

Hennessey Friends of the Police served pork loin sandwiches and hot dogs Saturday, Nov. 7, in the 4T's parking lot. The lunch fundraiser helps cover needs outside the police department's regular budget and supports local programs such as Kids & Cops, which gives free bicycles to children.

Friends of the Police is an independent nonprofit that supports local law enforcement officers and their families. The group promotes officer wellness, helps provide training and equipment, and brings officers and residents together through youth programs and community events. Donations, fundraisers and volunteers help make that work possible.

The group thanks everyone who stopped by Saturday to buy lunch, donate or show their support.
